

First step

The 'Insert link' dialog box has a title bar with a close button (X). It contains two text input fields: 'Target page or URL:' and 'Text to display:', both containing 'google.com'. To the right of the first field is a blue icon of two arrows pointing outwards and the text 'External link'. Below the fields are two radio buttons: 'To a wiki page' (unselected) and 'To an external web page' (selected). At the bottom right are 'Cancel' and 'Insert link' buttons.

Click on To a Wiki Page option

The 'Insert link' dialog box is identical to the first one, but the 'To a wiki page' radio button is now selected, and the 'To an external web page' radio button is unselected. The 'External link' icon and text are still present next to the 'Target page or URL:' field.

Either the External link image should change or, if the text have the indication of a web site, then should not let user to change to "To a wiki page" option
